

Guatemala Mission Update 19 November 2011

Hello friends and family!

This is Rebecca Patterson, writing for the 2011 Guatemala mission team! It is almost 11pm here in Guatemala and we arrived at our hotel safe and sound about an hour ago! After a fairly easy travel day, we are all a bit tired but happy to be in Guatemala! We are currently going through our supply bags and preparing ourselves for our first day of activities tomorrow. We plan on spending the morning doing an orientation activity (details and pictures to come!) and in the afternoon we will be visiting families in a rural community called La Cumbre - sharing testimonies, taking small gifts, and encouraging the families to get connected with the local church.

Please keep us in your prayers as it will be our first opportunity to stretch ourselves. Pray that the Lord will put the words on our lips that we need to share, and that He will keep us safe as we begin to experience a different culture and different sights, sounds and tastes! Also join us in praising Him for our safe travels today. And lastly, we would love prayers for energy and positive attitudes as we are going to have a short night's rest tonight! :)

Thank you for your love, support and prayers! If any of you would like to send a message back to our team or to the member of our team that you know, please feel free and I will pass it on! Blessings!

-Rebecca, for the team
